OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF SAVINGS BANKS,
COMMONWEALTH BUILDING, BOSTON, Feb. 2, 1884.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives.

The Commissioners of Savings Banks respectfully present for the consideration of the legislature their Eighth Annual Report.

The number of savings banks doing business at present in the Commonwealth is 168, one more than last year.

An act of incorporation was granted by the last legislature for the Farmers' and Mechanics' Savings Bank of South Framingham, upon the representation of the petitioners that their village was a railroad centre of considerable importance, and that the inhabitants of several neighboring towns, as well as its own residents, would be accommodated by the additional facilities afforded by the establishment of the bank.

The Bank was organized, and commenced business June 4th.

The receiverships of two banks have been closed during the year, that of the Needham Savings Bank, the depositors of which have been paid the full amount of the principal of their deposits; and the Barnstable Savings Bank, depositors of which have received 82 per cent. of their deposits.

There are now five savings banks in the hands of receivers being wound up.

The assets of two of them, the North Bridgewater and Sandwich Savings Banks, have all been converted into money, and await the final adjudication of their affairs to pay the closing dividends, which will be about five per cent. each.

The receivers of the Lancaster Savings Bank have still been unable to sell the large parcel of unimproved real estate, mainly marsh and flats in the Dorchester district of Boston, and until they succeed in disposing of it, the affairs of their receivership cannot be closed.

Litigation still continues to delay the settlement of the affairs of the receiverships of the Scituate and Reading Savings Banks. The receivers expect a final settlement during this year.

In compliance with requirements of chap. 116, sect. 44 of the Public Statutes, the receivers of two savings banks, which have been wound up, have paid into the treasury of the Commonwealth the unclaimed moneys or dividends remaining in their hands for one year after the final settlement ordered by the supreme judicial court. These were the Mercantile Savings Institution of Boston, and the Hyannis Savings Bank.

In accordance with the provisions of chap. 77 of the acts of 1882, the receivers of the Dorchester and Hyannis Savings Banks and the Mercantile Institution for Savings in Boston, have also deposited with the Commissioners of Savings Banks the books and papers of these insolvent banks, including those relating to their receiverships.

No proper repository has yet been provided for the books and papers of the insolvent banks as required by chap. 77, sect. 1, of the Acts of 1882. Convenient shelves and drawers were provided for books and papers in the new offices assigned for the Savings Banks Commissioners in the Commonwealth Building. We recommend that authority be granted to remove such of them as the Commissioners may consider expedient, from the State House to their rooms in the Commonwealth Building.

The affairs of the Emigrant Savings Bank of Boston, which is being wound up by its officers, are so nearly closed, that the final dividend of nine and one-half per cent. ordered by the supreme judicial court is now being paid. The depositors receive ninety nine and one-half per cent. of the amount of the principal of their deposits.

On the next page is a tabular statement of some statistics, relative to the insolvent savings banks.

* The receivers of these banks are paying the final dividend.

¹ The receivers of these banks have deposited with the treasurer of the Commonwealth the balances due depositors, in accordance with the provisions of sect. 44, chap. 116 of the Public Statutes, and the books and papers of the banks have been deposited with the Commissioners of Savings Banks, agreeably to the provisions of chap. 77 of the Acts of 1882.² In addition to this amount is the sum of $68,091.84, due from the late treasurer.

The amount of deposits in the Savings Banks doing business October 31, 1883, was $252,607,593.02, being $11,296,230.53 more than at the same date of the previous year.

The surplus was $5,240,959.26, showing an increase of $208,544.52 for the year.

The guaranty fund was $4,800,295.73, which was an increase of $773,090.45, for the year.

The number of open accounts was 806,010, an increase of 33,492 for the year; which would make the average of the accounts $313.40, an increase from the average of the previous year of $1.03.

The amount of deposits (including dividends) during the year was $58,543,882.41, $9,309,229.78 more than the previous year, and the number of deposits (948,091) increased 270,669. The average of deposits was $61.75. The average the previous year was $72.68, being a decrease of $10.93 for the year.

The total of withdrawals was $47,156,917.04, showing an increase of $2,838,395.48 from that of the previous year. The number of withdrawals was 480,225, 21,731 more than the previous year.

The average of the withdrawals was $98.20, an increase of $1.54 from the previous year, when it was $96.66.

Investments in United States bonds have decreased $3,288,000.13. State and municipal bonds have increased $3,598,959.99.

Loans on public funds have increased $28,055. Investments in bank stock have increased $352,835.71.

Loans on bank stock have increased $196,723.46. Investments in railroad bonds have increased $2,558,884.44.

Loans on mortgages of real estate have increased $6,230,879.22, and $1,467,955.73 have been deducted from real estate acquired by foreclosure, which is $5,733,649.77.

Loans on personal security have increased $4,749,178.71. The deposits in banks bearing interest are $11,682,959.46, a decrease from the previous year of $1,224,945.94.

The percentage of assets in the various classes of investments is fourteen and fifteen one-hundredths per cent. in public funds and loans on public funds; ten and one-quarter per cent. in bank stock, and loans on same; four and four-tenths per cent. in railroad bonds; thirty-five and one-eighth per cent. in loans on mortgages of real estate; three and six one-hundredths per cent. invested in real estate, including foreclosures; twenty-three and forty-six one-hundredths per cent. in loans on personal security; three and seventy-six one-hundredths per cent. in loans to counties, cities and towns; four and forty-four one-hundredths per cent. in deposits in banks on interest; one and thirty-four one-hundredths per cent. in cash on hand and sundry items.

The earnings of the banks were $13,087,208.88 — $441,560.23 more than the previous year. The amount of dividends was $9,535,391.36, an increase of $1,005,006.15.

Fifteen banks paid the highest rate of dividend of interest allowed, — five per cent.; twenty-four banks paid dividends between four and five per cent; one hundred and twenty banks paid four per cent. dividends; four banks paid three and one-half per cent. dividends; three banks paid three per cent. dividends; one bank, which was organized during the year, paid one dividend of one and one-quarter per cent. for three months; and one bank, which was temporarily enjoined by a decree of the supreme judicial court, and is being wound up by its officers, paid no dividend of interest.

The average rate of ordinary dividends was four and nine one-hundredths per cent.; or twelve one-hundredths per cent. more than the previous year.

The savings banks were generally prosperous during the past year, and their condition is mainly satisfactory. Although the rates of interest have ruled low, and it has been difficult to make profitable investments of their accumulating deposits, still the relief afforded them by the modification of the laws for taxation has enabled them to increase the amount of the dividends to their depositors.

LOAN AND TRUST COMPANIES.

There are six of these companies doing business in the Commonwealth.

In addition to these companies are the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Company, and the Collateral Loan Company, which are under the supervision of the Commissioners of Savings Banks.

Nothing has occurred relative to any of these companies, which requires special comment.

The last legislature passed a resolve referring back to the commissioners of savings banks, and the commissioner of corporations, a bill in relation to loan and trust companies, which had been reported by these commissioners in compliance with a resolve of the legislature of 1882, with instructions to give a hearing to the representatives of all the existing loan and trust companies in the Commonwealth to consider said bill, to make such amendments thereto as they should deem expedient, and report a new bill to this legislature.

The commissioners have attended to the duties required of them and will report a new bill for your consideration.

CO-OPERATIVE BANKS.

There are twenty-five co-operative banks now doing business in the Commonwealth, the same number as last year.

The Mansfield Co-operative Bank has been organized in Mansfield.

The Green River Co-operative Bank, at Greenfield, has been wound up.

The receipts of the Green River Co-operative Bank, which commenced business July 21, 1882, were:—

From dues on shares,	$950 00
From interest,	17 56
From fines,	4 08
From transfer fee,	25
	<hr/>
	$971 89

DISBURSEMENTS.

Paid for shares withdrawn,	$893 19
Paid for expenses,	78 70
	$971 89

The loss to the shareholders was about 6 per cent. of the amount paid in on their shares.

The management of this institution by the officers elected at its organization was faulty and irregular in nearly every respect, and they may justly be charged with its want of success, which can be traced to a failure on their part to observe the requirements of the laws enacted for the government of co-operative banks.

These institutions had been designated Co-operative Saving Fund and Loan Associations until last year, when by the provisions of chap. 98 of the Acts of 1883, the name "Co-operative Bank" was substituted for "Co-operative Saving Fund and Loan Association." This was done upon the representation of the officers of some of the institutions, that the original name was too long and sometimes led to confusion and errors.

The legislature has amended the general law relative to these banks several times, but as they increase their business, and the amount of their assets becomes larger, other amendments will undoubtedly have to be made, to make the management more simple and effective.

We are not prepared to recommend further changes in the law at present, preferring, if possible, to act in harmony with the managers of these banks when such recommendations shall be made.

We are confident that the time will soon come when our views and those of most of the officers of the banks will concur, and therefore consider it inexpedient to suggest further changes this year.

The condition of these banks is generally satisfactory; they have increased their assets $435,127.12 during the year, which now amount to $1,471,262.43, as will be seen by the table of statistics relative to these institutions, on the following page.

In the succeeding pages will be found a copy of the Public Statutes relative to savings banks, with such additions and amendments as were made by the last legislature.
